

BUTTERFLY BLACK

GRAMMY® WINNING ARTIST BEN WILLIAMS AND AWARD-WINNING SONGWRITER AND BROADWAY STAR SYNDEE WINTERS JOINED FOR A BLACKPOP DUO PROJECT.

“Ben Williams and Syndee Winters are aiming to be a legendary twosome.” - VIBE MAGAZINE

With its irresistible blend of disco, soul, and pop influences, "Butterfly Black" featuring Grammy -Winning bassist Ben Williams (Pat Metheny, Robert Glasper, David Sanborn, Terrace Martin) & Broadway Princess Syndee Winters (The Lion King, Hamilton, Motown the Musical) is poised to make waves. "The collaboration was created to celebrate African - American contributions to Pop music. Their debut LP "BLACKPOP" includes Williams and Winters' innovative approach to music, resurrecting sounds reminding you of artists like Rufus & Chaka Khan, Alex Isley, Silk Aonic, Solange, Prince, Michael Jackson, Robert Glasper. Williams and Winters write and produce music that reminds us to get close and love again on the dance floor. Their previous releases, "I Just Wanna Love You", "Lifetime", and "BRB" have become earworms of hooks that have you singing all day. "When people listen to our music, they tell us it feels like love, which I feel is the highest compliment," says Syndee Winters, who portrayed Nala in The Lion King on Broadway, and Diana Ross in Motown, the Musical. "We are on a mission to bring love and community back into music, we need it now more than ever."
